

two

too

preposition

before (an adjective) noun or pronoun

before verb
(infinitive)

to

adverb

two

number 2

Matt walked two blocks before turning to the right.

The Roman number for two is II.

too

extreme

The teacher wasn't too pleased with the students' behavior.

If you stand too near the fire you can get burned.

also

Megan wanted ice cream too.

The man was tall and a great basketball player too.

to

preposition

before (an adjective) noun or pronoun

The Millers came to the house.

The wind blew from north to south.

function word

before verb (infinitive)

The officer wants to receive a medal.

Bob wants to run the full marathon.

adverb toward

The boy came to after the accident.

Please pull the door to.