How to Use this Resource for Teaching Vocabulary

The following items are available to aid in teaching vocabulary:

- A Suggested Vocabulary Teaching Method – I have included the method that I use to teach vocabulary. I have used this method with 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th graders with success. There are many other successful methods. If your class is struggling to learn new vocabulary words, you may wish to give this method a try. If you have a different method that is successful, you probably will not want to change.
- A Vocabulary List with Two Words from Each Chapter – This list contains the words, definitions, several synonyms for each word, the part of speech as the word is used in the chapter, and the sentences from the text which include the words. In some cases, I have included several sentences to aid students in determining the meaning of the word.
- Vocabulary Bookmarks – These bookmarks contain the complete vocabulary list. I have included both colored and blackline versions. I have found these bookmarks are extremely helpful for students who have been absent. Students may use the list to help catch up missing vocabulary words. The bookmark list also aids students who lose vocabulary cards.
- Word Cards – In my classroom, I use the printable word cards on a word wall. I change the word wall with each unit. I use index cards for students to make response cards. If you are not limited in the number of copies you use, you may wish to print these cards onto cardstock for students to use in place of the index cards. The bold typed words are easy to read whereas some student writing is extremely difficult. You may also wish to use the printable cards to differentiate instruction.
- Vocabulary Storage Pocket – This pocket is intended for the vocabulary response cards. It will hold either the printable cards or the index cards.
- Vocabulary Practice Book - This book contains a half page daily practice with each pair of vocabulary words. At the end of each five day period, you will find a half page review of all words up to the review point.
- Matching Vocabulary Test

View this free four minute video for more information on using the vocabulary materials in this unit.

Comprehension

This section contains a one page printable comprehension practice for each reading selection. The chart below is the key to the types of questions for the comprehension questions. The section also contains constructive response exercises. The constructive response pages that are chapter specific list the chapters they should be used with. If chapter numbers are not listed the questions are flexible and may be used at different points in the story.

Types of Questions Key

detail / inference main idea / summarizing / theme character/ setting / plot / events word meaning / figurative language text structure
point of view
different forms of the same story compare and contrast

Option 1

Have students use the graphic organizer for notes. Notice the notes are not in complete sentences. Glue the organizer to the left side of the notebook page. On the right side of the notebook, students use the notes to write the details in paragraph form.

Constructive Response - Point of View

After answering the following questions about point of view, write a response in paragraph form.

Who is telling the story?	Peter
From which point of view is the story told? What is the narrator's perspective?	1st Person Point of View
How does the narrator's point of view change how the events are being described?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Peter's feelings are known.</li> <li>Peter writes the story.</li> <li>Told in past tense</li> </ul>
How does the narrator's point of view influence how the events are described?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>perspective of 10 year old</li> <li>grammar errors</li> <li>Shows authenticity</li> </ul>
Why do you think the narrator described the events the way he did?	The reader has a close relationship with Peter.
How would the story change if a different character was the narrator?	If the story was in third person, the close bond would not be formed.

CC.85.EA.Literacy.RL.3.6 Distinguish their own point of view from that of the narrator or those of the characters.
CC.85.EA.Literacy.BL.4.6 Compare and contrast the point of view from which different stories are narrated, including the difference between first- and third-person narrators.
CC.85.EA.Literacy.BL.5.5 Describe how a narrator's or speaker's point of view influences how events are described.

The War with Grandpa is told from the perspective of 10 year old Peter Stokes. Peter's teacher assigned students write a story that was "real and true". This book is Peter's story. The story is told in first person point of view. The reader knows exactly what Peter is thinking and feeling at all times. The story begins with Peter going to his father's study to type. Beginning with Chapter 2, the story is told in past tense. Since the story is told from the perspective of a 10 year old, many grammar errors are included. This gives the story authenticity. The reader would not form a close bond to Peter if the story were told in third person. The reader would not have as good an understanding of this character.

Chapters 16-18 ~ Constructive Response - Problem and Solution Chain

Fill in each solution in the problem and solution chain. Use this to summarize Chapters 16-18.

problem	solution
Billy tells Peter he shouldn't tell his grandpa what he plans to do.	Peter came up with the plan to set his grandpa's alarm clock to go off at 3:00AM.
solution	problem
Peter set his AM-FM digital clock-radio for two o'clock in the morning, so he could set his grandpa's clock.	Peter had to get up in the middle of the night to carry out his plan.
problem	solution
Grandpa is awakened at 3:00 AM by his alarm clock.	Grandpa came up the stairs to talk to Peter. Grandpa told Peter that he thought the first note was just a joke. He also said he hoped Peter didn't have his mother's stubborn streak.
effects
Peter basically told Grandpa that he loved him, but he wasn't going to give up the fight to get his room back.

CC.85.EA.Literacy.RL.3.7 Reprint stories, including fables, folktales, and myths from diverse cultures; determine the central message, lesson, or moral and explain how it is conveyed through key details in the text.
CC.85.EA.Literacy.RL.4.2 Determine a theme of a story, drama, or poem from details in the text; summarize the text.
CC.85.EA.Literacy.RL.5.2 Determine a theme of a story, drama, or poem from details in the text, including how characters in a story or drama respond to challenges or how the speaker in a poem reflects upon a topic; summarize the text.

Option 2

Students complete the organizer by writing complete sentences.

Language Arts

Author, Robert Kimmel Smith, decided to tell the story in The War with Grandpa from an unusual perspective. In the first chapter, the main character, Peter, is asked to write a story by his English teacher. The rest of the book is the story Peter has written.

To make the book feel like it was written by a fifth grader, it includes grammar and spelling mistakes. Many of the language arts lessons will focus on the mistakes Peter made while writing.

Setting Up the Game for Play

This game may be played with two to four players.

The Object of the Game

to be the last person to cover a sentence in the center of the game board

Rules for Playing

1. Roll a die or spin a spinner to determine which player goes first.
2. When it is a player's turn, s/he rolls the die and moves the indicated number of spaces. The player then reads the word. If there is a sentence that uses the same meaning of the word in the center of the game, the player covers the sentence with a marker. If the sentence is already covered OR if the sentence uses a different meaning of the word, the player simply does nothing until his/her next turn.
3. If a player lands on a "Free Space," s/he may cover any sentence.
4. Play continues until all the sentences in the center of the game board are covered. The person to cover the last sentence is the winner.

Comma Rules

Review clauses using the organizer provided for Day #3 before beginning this lesson.

Having students draw and color notes (a left brain activity) while learning facts (a right brain activity) promotes active learning since both sides of the brain are active. The improved communication helps students focus and retain information. In several of my units, I have created resource pages based on this idea. I call these resource pages "Graffiti Notes." If you have students cut away the borders, these will fit nicely into an interactive notebook for reference.

Following each printable, an answer key is provided. As with the foldable organizers the answer keys may be used as a sample for students to follow, for differentiated instructions, or for students who were absent.

Here is what is provided:

- Coordinating Conjunctions
- Subordinating Conjunctions
- Prepositional Phrases
